

Research Lines - Dedal-Lit:

Members of Group Dedal-Lit focus on studying the ways in which different literary forms and genres throw light into the complexities of the aging process. Our research lines are the following:

- literary gerontology / age-ageing studies
- the ageing process from a gendered perspective
- intergenerational relationships as presented in literature
- ageing studies from theatre studies and community theatre
- ageing and gender in graphic novels - the lifecourse perspective in contemporary poetry
- narrative analysis from an ageing studies perspective
- ageing studies and popular culture (detective fiction, speculative fiction, fantasy, etc.)
- ageing studies applied to films and TV series
